Partners Ending Homelessness is responsible for conducting an annual Point in Time Count (PITC) of homelessness in Guilford County. The Point in Time Count, conducted nationally, provides a snapshot of unduplicated sheltered and unsheltered individuals and families experiencing homelessness, defined by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), on any given night. The survey includes only people willing to answer questions about their living status on the designated day in January. In 2007, Partners Ending Homelessness established a baseline for comparing data compiled during the Point in Time Counts. *Information was not collected on the number of families experiencing chronic homelessness, (in 2011, HUD changed the definition of Chronic Homelessness to include families)

 HUD altered the definition of Chronic Homelessness in January 2016 to increase the total time required for multiple episodes of homelessness to equal 12 months.
